Candidates for the town's major offices went down to the wire swinging this week, with Monday's election deadline in plain view.

Issues came into sharp focus at two candidates' nights - at the North District school Monday night and at the High School Tuesday evening.

Voters will have their chance to render a verdict Monday, with the town's six polling places open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Three men seek a single seat on the Board of Selectmen; two candidates want one place on the School Committee; and three are seeking a lone Housing Authority position.

In addition, two hotly-debated questions are on the ballot - 48-hour work-week for firefighters and acceptance of the vocational school.

Prime Issue - Renewal

One of the hottest issues - and likely to be even more of a sizzler before it's through - is Urban Renewal.

Two candidates for Selectman have opposite views, while a third flatly refuses to take a stand. They state their positions this way:

Paul W. Cronin: Against Urban Renewal. Figures fluctuate too sharply; gamble is too great.

R. Wayne Long: No position, as of Monday night refused to take a stand on grounds that this is not an issue on which the candidates should be running. Cites confusing information which makes it hard to reach logical decision.

Kenneth P. Thompson: Favors

Urban Renewal, with five provisions designed to safeguard project against the "ifs".

Two candidates for Housing Authority have flatly come out for Urban Renewal.

Winston Blake and Theodore Meinelt favor the proposal. Jeremiah Davey, the third candidate, has not appeared at the candidates' nights.

Vocational School At Stake

Acceptance or rejection of membership in vocational school district has become a real issue in the School Committee contest.

Barbara Moody: Absolute approval. Feels town would be remiss in not taking part, and offering this to students whose aptitudes qualify them.

Nearly 4 Million In Budgets According To FinCom Report

The Finance Committee is recommending budgets totaling $3,905,667, for adoption at town meeting.

The Committee also suggests using $278,500 from free cash, to pay for special articles, plus $50,000 from this amount to help reduce the tax rate.

In its annual report, now being prepared for mailing, the FinCom states that the cash balance on hand - if its recommendations are

Drs. Sidney & Dorothy Simon Leaving For Important Posts

Andover is soon to lose a nearly-unique couple, whose scientific attainments have made them well known in many parts of the world. They are Dr. Sidney Simon and his wife, Dr. Dorothy Simon, of Sunset Rock rd. Both have been connected with nearby research organizations, Dr. Simon with RCA

DR. SIDNEY SIMON and Dr. Dorothy with AVCO/RAD. March 1, they take up new assignments in New York City and exchange their comfortable home among the New England pine trees for a handsome balconied apartment over-looking the East River. Dr. Sidney Simon received his B.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Chicago and worked there on infrared analysis equipment until the war, when he was concerned with chemical warfare problems. With the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, he organized and directed research into the physics of solids, high temperature materials and radiation damage. Between 1946 and 1949, Dr. Simon was senior engineer at Oak Ridge National Laboratory and Senior Scientist at Argonne National Laboratory. By 1955 he was Nuclear Scientist in Project AID, studying industrial possibilities in atomic energy. He joined AVCO/RAD as director of Applied Research, and in December of 1957 was made assistant to the president there. Since 1958, Dr. Simon has been with the Radio Corporation of America in various capacities, most recently as chief engineer of Aerospace Communications and Controls Division. In 1961 and 1962 he was a member of Mayor Robert Wagner's Special Committee on the Radiological Aspects of Civil Defense for New York City. A member of many scientific societies, Dr. Simon holds several patents and has published papers on such subjects as gas absorption, combustion, rocket fuels and nuclear reactors. Dr. Dorothy Simon, a native of Missouri, was graduated from Southwest Missouri State with an all-A record, and has since been honored as the first woman in the history of the College to receive the Outstanding Alumnus Award. She did four years of graduate work at the University of Illinois, while teaching two undergraduates courses in chemistry, her major. After earning her doctorate, she worked for du Pont, doing research on orlon. In 1946, she and Dr. Sidney Simon were married while he was at Oak Ridge. Dr. Dorothy worked for the AEC there in radiochemistry and at the Argonne National Laboratory in Chicago. In 1949, when they moved to Cleveland flight and space problems, fuels and flame-quenching and propagation became her main areas of interest. Writing and lecturing took her to Canada and Europe and she was selected for one of the first Rockefeller awards for public service in 1953. This she used for study at Cambridge University in England. Since 1956 Dr. Dorothy has been associated with AVCO/RAD as technical assistant to the president. Her published papers cover such fields as aerothermochemistry, combustion and radiochemistry. Several years ago her story was told in the Saturday Evening Post, and probably did a great deal to encourage more young women to make their careers in various scientific disciplines. Her new position will be as director of corporate research in the central offices of AVCO/RAD in New York. Dr. Sidney Simon will be vice president at the Ford Instrument Division of Sperry Rand Corporation, also in the city.

Both the Simons are looking forward to the excitement of metropolitan living, but do regret having to leave Andover and their good friends here. They consider this one of the nicest parts of the country in which to live, and are glad that they will be close enough to make many visits possible.

American Home Day Monday

American Home Day will be observed Monday by the Shawsheen Village Woman's Club at the Andover Country Club. The morning meeting has been scheduled for 10:30.

Charles Thompson, a resident of the Shaker Village in Canterbury, N. H., will present an illustrated lecture on the arts, crafts and culture of the Shakers, a remarkable communal group which is slowly becoming extinct. Though not a Shaker himself, Mr. Thompson and his family have lived with these interesting people and observed their ways for quite some time.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30. Mrs. Arthur E. Kerwin and Mrs. John A. Word, hostess co-chairmen, are in charge of the luncheon reservations.

The afternoon meeting will open at 2:30 with a delightful musical interlude, featuring the A Cappella Choir of the Andover High School under the direction of Keith Gould. The talented members of the choir have performed at several local events and received many favorable comments.

Following the choir, Mrs. Cecilia Lee will direct an interesting revue entitled "Instant Entertainment". This audience participation program will feature Club members in some new and unaccustomed roles, which are expected to reveal unsuspected talents.

Guest speaker at the business meeting will be Mrs. John H. Appleyard, 10th District director.

Mrs. Richard Locke, rug braiding instructor, has arranged for an exhibition of the braided rugs made by the Club members who have taken part in the classes. Other members are invited to display any rugs that they have made.

Members are reminded of the federation project "Action on Arthritis". A box will be available to receive donations from those who have participated in the small coffee groups to raise funds for this worthy cause.

Unit Meetings Next Week

The town warrant Study Committee of the League of Women Voters will report to the membership on its findings at a series of four units during the coming week.

Dr. Sloane To Speak At Service

DR. DOUGLAS SLOANE

A series of Lenten Vesper Services will begin this Sunday evening, March 3, at the Free Church, at 6:15 p.m.

The first speaker will be Dr. Douglas Sloane, founder of the Cathedral of the Pines in Rindge, N. H. The service comes immediately after a 15-minute prelude on the Buttrick Memorial Chimes, which begin each Sunday evening at six o'clock. The Free Church choir will participate and the service will last approximately 45 minutes.

Dr. Sloane founded the Cathedral of the Pines on a knoll located on the family estate in Rindge, after his son was lost in World War II. An altar placed there, before a view of Mount Monadnock, contains a stone from each state in the Union. Stones have also been sent from many other parts of the world. It has now been made a National Shrine.

The subject of Dr. Sloane's address will be "The Cross".

Miss Richardson Accepted In College

Miss Pam Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Richardson, 18 River rd., has been accepted for admission to David Lipscomb College, Nashville, Tenn.

A student at Andover High School, Miss Richardson expects to graduate in the spring and will enter Lipscomb in June. She plans to major in English.

Lipscomb operates on a year-round basis, and priority in dormitory reservations is given summer-quarter students, who are permitted to retain for fall, winter and spring, the rooms assigned to them.

Enrollment last fall was 1,471, compared to 1,426 for 1961. The student body is to be limited to 1,450 to 1,500 in the years ahead, in the interest of "A Better Not a Larger Lipscomb", a slogan adopted last year. Lipscomb is a church-affiliated liberal arts college, operated, staffed, and supported by members of Churches of Christ. Daily Bible study for every student is required.

Concord Jolts Tourney Hopes

Andover was eliminated from further competition in the Mass. Tech Tourney Monday night, losing to Concord, 62-51.

After getting off to an even start, with the score 10-8, in favor of Concord at the end of the first period, Andover was outscored heavily in the second period and never actually recovered from the shock. The two final periods of the game were evenly played, with the two teams staying about 10 points apart.

For Andover, Jim White ended his high school playing days with a team high of 18 points, closely followed by teammate Barry Connors, who had 16 for the night. Dave Crowther of Concord had 28 points for the distinction of being the high scorer for the winners.

Concord Jolts Tourney Hopes

Andover was eliminated from further competition in the Mass. Tourney Monday night, losing to Concord, 62-51.

After getting off to an even start, with the score 10-8, in favor of Concord at the end of the first period, Andover was outscored heavily in the second period and never actually recovered from the shock. The two final periods of the game were evenly played, with the two teams staying about 10 points apart.

For Andover, Jim White ended his high school playing days with a team high of 18 points, closely followed by teammate Barry Connors, who had 16 for the night. Dave Crowther of Concord had 28 points for the distinction of being the high scorer for the winners.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Extraordinary Duty

A fireman's work, we've often said, is worth far more than we can afford to pay; few people, unfortunately, see firefighters working under the conditions they must tolerate.

Such was the case with the Howard Johnson's fire Feb. 19.

It was such a bad night that few residents bothered to beat their way through the blizzard, in order to see what the department personnel had to put up with, in the way of weather, while fighting a stubborn blaze.

Few of us, we'd venture to guess, would take on this task.

But it isn't until someone sees the firefighters working in such miserably cold and uncomfortable conditions that he realizes the additional problems they encounter.

The department did a good job at that particular fire; they deserve public thanks. For although this might be considered, by some, to be just in the line of duty, those at the fire realize that any such duty is really extraordinary.

Someone May Be Hurt

An item of no small concern in this year's warrant is a by-law change that requires the issuance of a permit for any removal of sand or gravel—whether it be for sale, or not.

This proposal was defeated a year ago, because many voters believed that small, do-it-yourself projects on one's own property should not become involved with a permit.

The Selectmen, on the other hand, point to a hole in the rear of a piece of property off Dascomb rd. as an example of what can happen without this requirement. The contractor did not sell the material—he just hauled it to another of his own sites. But the resulting scar on the landscape looks as bad as that left by any commercial gravel pit operation.

We can sympathize with the latter viewpoint—large-scale removal of material should be controlled, or it can get completely out of hand.

But it is equally possible to visualize the problems which might result if literal enforcement drove everyone into the town offices, to take out a permit. There are many occasions when gravel or fill might be removed, in minor quantities, while accomplishing some routine backyard project.

It's hard to see how the voters can vote for the article, thus protecting themselves against the wholesale removal and resulting scar, without the possibility of hurting some residents. This may have to be the price paid for gaining control of a situation that could become critical, if allowed to continue.

Plates Losing Paint

What's happening to my number plates?

This, it turns out, is a question being heard more and more frequently this winter—and the plates are hardly two months old.

The paint is peeling off the numerals, making many plates all-but-impossible to read.

It isn't the car owner's fault; one or two washes, plus the salt splashed onto the paint, and off it comes.

We may not be able to do anything about the condition now—but it seems highly unlikely that this sort of situation should occur again. The state should keep up its standards, and more carefully supervise the preparation of the plates. It's too expensive a proposition to pay for the plates once, then for replacements throughout the year.

The sort of wear showing now can only be the result of careless workmanship, or of using the wrong paints and mixtures.

Let's not have any repeats on this one, please.

The song of the lawnmower is practically drowned out by the growls of the man behind it.

Today's genius is the man who has caught up with his Christmas bills before vacation time arrives.

Today's automobiles may have all the modern gadgets, but it's still necessary to turn the wheel when the road does.

The Memorial Hall Library will be open its usual Saturday hours March 9, day of Town Meeting.

Movie Program

There will be two movie programs for boys and girls the first week of March, Monday, March 4, at 4 o'clock, boys and girls of Ballardvale are invited to the branch library to see three movies and to hear a story or two, Thursday afternoon, March 7, Andover young people will have the same program in the Memorial Hall Library, at 3:35 o'clock. The movies to be shown are "Georgie and the Dragon", "Animal Homes" and "Nautilus". "Georgie" tells of a boy whose father refused to allow him a pet, but he has the thrill of finding a little "beastie" which grows into a dragon. "Animal Homes" shows where animals live, in the trees, on the ground, in the water. All adventure lovers will want to see "Nautilus"; Arctic Passage" a color study of the historic voyage of the U.S. nuclear-powered submarine from the Pacific to the Atlantic ocean by way of the North Pole. It shows activities aboard the submarine during the cruise, and exciting views of the underside of the polar ice cap.

Parents should allow about three quarters of an hour for the program.

Great Decisions

Members of the "Great Decisions -- 1963" groups all over the nation are using as a theme for this week "Spain . . . End Of The Franco Era?" Groups are made up of American citizens, each in their own communities, who meet together to discuss foreign policy decisions now facing the nation and the people. They use books recommended on a basic bibliography list, and supplement this with press releases.

However, anyone interested in the idea may wish to read independently without participation with a group, and will find the readings listed for each subject at the library. This week's recommended readings include "Spain, A Modern History" by Salvador de Madariaga, "Wartime Mission In Spain", covering 1942-1945, by Carlton Hayes; "The Yoke And The Arrows: A Report On Spain" by Herbert L. Matthews; "The Balance Of Forces In Spain", by Hugh Thomas, published in Foreign Affairs magazine in October, 1962, and the library staff will be happy to recommend other material. All items listed here may be borrowed for home use. On order is Sax Bradford's "Spain In The World", a general discussion of Spain and Spaniards by a State Department executive.

Great Books

The March 5 meeting of the Great Books Discussion Group will have for its reading Nietzsche's "Genealogy Of Morals." Discussion begins promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

All members of the reading public are cordially invited to take this coming meeting on March 19 as the starting point in a membership in the Great Books meetings. For a number of years, with a turnover in membership, the group has continued its course, every other Tuesday evening, in the library. Now there is a plan to return to the starting point and begin again with the first year readings. Here is an ideal situation for the late comers to the community, who now start off with everyone else. Sets are being ordered for those who register and wish to purchase them, with reduced rates for a large order. Ask about this at the desk, if you want an unusual, exciting and stimulating experience - good reading, good thinking and good talk.

Those Magazines!

A special notice is being made to those who borrow magazines from the library: all copies should be returned to the main desk, and not returned in the book box. Students are required to make heavy use of the library periodicals, with resulting normal wear. But leaving them in the outdoor book box causes much tearing and bending. Please observe this request when returning those you have borrowed.

Town Meeting Information

Information for voters has been posted at the library, with the warrant, information about the candidates and the articles that are of special interest.

Trees Can Get Bad Infections

A tree can contract a disease in late winter, when all the world seems dormant, and in a very few weeks develop ugly cankers.

All it takes, says Dr. Philip L. Rusden, are a few unseen spores (seed-like bodies of a fungus) carried unknown distances on a breeze. If these happen to land on a tiny tear or breakage in the bark, germination begins and infection occurs.

The spores are of nectria canker. For years nobody paid much attention to these decay-causing lesions when they appeared on birch, maple and oak in wooded stands. But now these nectria cankers also appear on prized shade and ornamental trees in suburban plantings and they are serious indeed.

Last year young holly trees were killed by nectria in Maryland. Usually nectria cankers are crippling, weakening a tree with deep scars that lead to wind breakage.

Canker formation often follows winter injury, the spores entering breaks caused by heavy loads of ice or snow. Even insect bites become points of entry for the fungus.

Tree vigor is the best way to prevent formation of cankers. A tree well fed will heal and seal a wound before it gets out of hand. And between now and late spring all wounds on a tree should be expertly treated and protected by wound dressings.

Cuban Problem To Be Discussed

ALEXANDER RORKE

Alexander Rorke's subject at Abbot Academy this Saturday will be "Inside the Anti-Castro Revolt".

Mr. Rorke has the dubious distinction of being the first American reporter imprisoned by Castro. Following his widely heralded TV show pointing up the Communization of Castro's military, he was re-arrested and deported from Cuba. It is understood that he has been sentenced (in absentia) to death by Castro's regime.

Rorke had intimate advance knowledge of the abortive CIA invasion of April 17, 1961. In January 1961, in Guatemala, he was the only reporter permitted to speak with Cubans preparing for the invasion. From expeditions against Castro early in the spring of 1961, commanded by Frank Fiorini, the commanding officer and organizer of the Anti-Communist International Brigade, Rorke brought back first hand information which led him to warn the U. S. that the impending "invasion" was doomed to failure.

Since then, Mr. Rorke has made numerous flights over Cuba dropping anti-Castro leaflets, including the raids in late December, 1961, over Cienfuegos and Matanzas, from which one of the two planes did not return.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock and the public is cordially invited.

Speedy Foot Chase
Results In Arrest

William H. Kelley, 20, 137 Boston st., Dorchester, will appear in court March 25, on two charges of attempted larceny, brought by Andover police. His case was continued to that date, when he appeared in District Court last Saturday.

Kelley was arrested on Punchard ave. last Thursday afternoon by Officer Calvin Deyermund, bringing to an end a brief but hectic chase through downtown streets.

Personnel of the Bay State Merchants National Bank and the police department chased Kelley, after he allegedly attempted to cash a stolen postal money order at the bank on Main st.

Branch Manager William Hickey and John Cronin were in hot pursuit, as the chase went up Main st. to Locke. Officer Roy Russell, who had been in the bank parking lot, joined in.

Officer Deyermund responded quickly to the bank's call for police assistance.

The chase led down Locke st., through back yards, back onto and across Main st., and to Punchard ave.

There, police said Kelley attempted to get a ride from a passing vehicle, by telling the driver some men were chasing him in order to beat him up.

Police said Kelley had attempted to cash a $95 postal money order, but became frightened when quizzed about the transaction. The two bank employees chased him out of the bank.

A number of bystanders, seeing the activity, thought the bank had been held up.

48-Hour Cost

The Finance Committee has issued the following statement on the 48-hour work week for firefighters:

"On several recent occasions the Finance Committee has been asked for cost information relative to Question No. 1 which appears on the ballot March 4th - 'Shall Section Fifty-Eight B of Chapter Forty-Eight of the General Laws providing for a 48-hour week for permanent members of Fire Departments be accepted?'

Based on figures submitted by Chief Hilton during budget discussions, the annual cost of the seven new men required to implement the 48-hour work week would be $41,847 exclusive of step increases and future general wage increases.

"As noted in our annual report, at the time of town meeting it will be necessary for us to add $20,924 to the 1963 Fire Department budget if the town votes to accept the 48-hour work week for permanent Fire Department members."

KEELER APPOINTED
Charles M. Keeler, 74 Memorial cir., after serving as a provisional member of the fire department for eight months, has been named a permanent employee.

A veteran of the Korean War, Keeler came to Andover four years ago from Wilmington.

TWO DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS

March is the month of two important annual business meetings in Andover.

First comes town meeting Saturday of next week. We hope that citizens ready to give their best judgment to the direction of our town's affairs will fill the auditorium to capacity.

On Tuesday evening, March 12 at the Rolling Green Motor Inn, the CO-OP will hold its annual stockholders' meeting. Dinner is at 7, business meeting at 8:15.

Ours is a most unusual stockholders' meeting because, like town meeting, each individual has equal voting rights regardless of his share or ownership. That's why we say the CO-OP is a democratically run corporation. That is one reason why our meetings are so well attended.

The CO-OP dinner is by advance reservation only. Will CO-OP shareholders please buy their dinner tickets, 99¢ at the store no later than Friday, March 2nd. Members may come for the business meeting only.

The Success of Democracy Depends on Participation

ELECTION DAY NEXT MONDAY

James Sullivan: Complete disapproval. Feels this is going backward to manual training in age of automation. Believes major industry does well in their own plant training programs for unskilled labor.

Experience Cited
Experience became a factor, specially in the Selectman's contest.

At Monday night's meeting at the North School, two of the contestants hit hard on this issue.

Speaking first, Mr. Thompson stressed his experience in business, growth of his own business, familiarity with government, as major qualifications.

Mr. Cronin told the audience that throughout the nation this is a time for young men, with new solutions and new ambition. He cited his experience in college studying government and economics, and his work with experience in various fields as providing background for the position he seeks.

Too Much Spending
Selectman candidate Long raised the issue of "imprudent spending" adding that spending has exceeded income, and suggesting that "political manipulation" of us rates in past years may be to blame. The tax base is not broad enough, and has not increased fast enough to keep up with the need for additional funds.

Parking Needed?
In response to one question about the town paying for more parking in the shopping area, if Urban Renewal is defeated, the candidates said:

Cronin: There's no need for more parking in the shopping area; personal survey on two Saturday afternoons disclosed 13 available metered spaces, and the municipal parking lot doesn't seem to be full.

Long: Taxpayers shouldn't pay for parking. It's the merchants' responsibility.

Thompson: Funds in the meter account were intended partially for this purpose, and should be used on a gradual basis to acquire more parking.

LODGE MEETING
Indian Ridge Rebekah Lodge 138 will meet at the Square and Compass Hall March 5 at 8 p.m. There will be a grocery social and refreshments will be served.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY
Being nine years old Feb. 11 calls for a Valentine's Day party. Heartily helping Steve Jenkins to celebrate the occasion were Gary Hunter, Pete Olander, Peter Zussman, Gordon Thompson and Roger and Bobby Jenkins.

Pomp, Freed In 1776, Came To Andover After Revolution

Why does Pomp's Pond bear the name "Pomp"?

Most interested residents know, probably that a liberated slave named Pomp lived on its banks - thus the name.

But that's not all of the story, William Van N. Washburn of School st., sends along some interesting data on Pomp himself, including the fact that he was given his freedom at the time of the Revolutionary War, by the father of Dr. James Jackson, a co-founder of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Mr. Washburn's reading of a book entitled "A Memoir of Dr. James Jackson" brought to light the following information:

Jonathan Jackson, Dr. Jackson's father, placed on record in the Suffolk Probate office, the following declaration:

"Know all men by these presents, that I, J. Jackson, of Newburyport, in the County of Essex, gentleman, in consideration of the impropriety I feel, and have long felt, in holding any person in constant bondage, -- more especially at a time when my country is so warmly contending for the liberty which every man ought to enjoy, -- and having some time since promised my negro man Pomp that I would give him his freedom, and, in further consideration of five shillings paid me by said Pomp, I do hereby liberate, manumit, and set him free; and I do hereby remise and release unto said Pomp all demands of whatever nature I have against Pomp. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this 19th of June, 1776."

In addition to Jonathan Jackson's signature, witnesses signing the declaration were Mary Coburn and William Noyes.

The "Memoirs" related: "This document is dated just two weeks before the glorious Declaration of Independence was issued, proclaiming all men to be born free. Pomp enlisted in the Army as Pomp Jackson, served (as fifer) through the War of the Revolution, and received an honorable discharge. He afterwards settled in Andover, near a pond still known as Pomp's Pond."

BREAKING? GROUND — Ground was officially "broken" for the first step of Rogers Brook reconstruction Tuesday morning, even though there is two or three feet of frost in the ground. Taking part were Rep. Arthur Williams, Planning Board Secretary Virginia Hammond, former chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Eugene A. Bernardin Jr., Chairman Russell G. Doyle, Selectman B. Allan Rowland and Town Manager Thomas E. Duff. (Cole)

German Art On Exhibit

The only opportunity in New England to see an important collection of modern German art will be at the Addison Gallery of American Art at Phillips Academy, from now through the month of March.

The exhibition, consisting of 76 paintings by 16 artists, was selected in Germany by the director of the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, Hermann Warner Williams Jr., and was recently displayed in Washington under the patronage of the Ambassador of the Federal Republic of Germany. Locally, it will be displayed under the patronage of the German Consul in Boston, Dr. Philipp Schmidt-Schlegel.

While German painting is part of the great international art movement, the present generation of German artists seems especially concerned with searching out new techniques to express their meaning. One particular example is Otto Pione, whose new "Smoke Paintings" have never been seen before, even in Germany. On the whole, it seems that German painters are more interested in the metaphysical and their palette is more somber and restricted in range than that of American or even French painting today. Perhaps this is due to the fact after Hitler, German painting had to start again from the very beginning, without tradition or continuity which, despite the war, other countries managed to preserve. According to some art critics it is felt, however, that had German artists been permitted to build on the traditions of the German Expressionists, the country would presently be more advanced from an artistic point of view than any other country in Europe and even America.

The artists, mostly men and women in their thirties and forties, were chosen because, although well established in their own countries, they are virtually unknown to the American public. They include Paul Wunderlich, who has developed an abstract Neo-Surrealism; Gerhard Wind, the only hard edge painter in the group; and Heinz Mack and Otto Pione, both concerned with experiments with light. While there are no out and out figurative painters in the exhibition, there are several whose work reflects in personal ways the trend towards nature. Among these are Irmgard Wessel-Zumloh, Roswitha Luder, Hans Kaiser, Johannes Gecelli and Hap Grieshaber, the latter currently confining himself to enormous colored woodcuts. The artists whose works are closest related to that being done by contemporary American painters are Peter Bruning, K. F. Dalmen, who was recognized in Paris before being acknowledged in Germany, and Reinhold Kohler, whose work is not dissimilar to that of Enrico Donati, while Joseph Fassbender, Hann Trier, Fred Thieler, and Rupprecht Geiger show a range of Abstract Expressionism familiar to American audiences.

Upon its conclusion at Andover, March 31, the exhibit will travel to a limited number of museums in the Mid-West before the paintings are returned to Germany. The Addison Gallery is located on the campus of Phillips Academy, on Route 28. The Gallery is open to the public without charge Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sundays from 2:30 to 5 p.m.
